Workshop

"Service-learning for Community Development During wartime and Recovery"

Description: Russia's invasion of Ukrainian territory, in addition to the significant destruction of infrastructure, has led to a widespread humanitarian crisis. From the first days of the war, a number of Ukrainian universities have demonstrated incredible endurance and solidarity, involving themselves in global advocacy for Ukraine. Volunteering has become part of the daily lives of many Ukrainian students and professors. The sudden and rapid increase in requests from society has given the service learning educational approach new possibilities.

During this 90 min workshop we will share UCU's experience of using the SL methodology for solving global and local issues caused by war. Ideas for new SL projects for recovery after war will be elaborated, presented and discussed.
